

Consider the benefits of garden-based learning to your circle of influence.

Write your program goals along the sides. How do the benefits you include speak directly to those goals?
How might you articulate those benefits to all those involved, thus telling the good story of your work?

Cornell University
Cooperative Extension

<http://gardening.cals.cornell.edu/>

