Meet Emma Romano

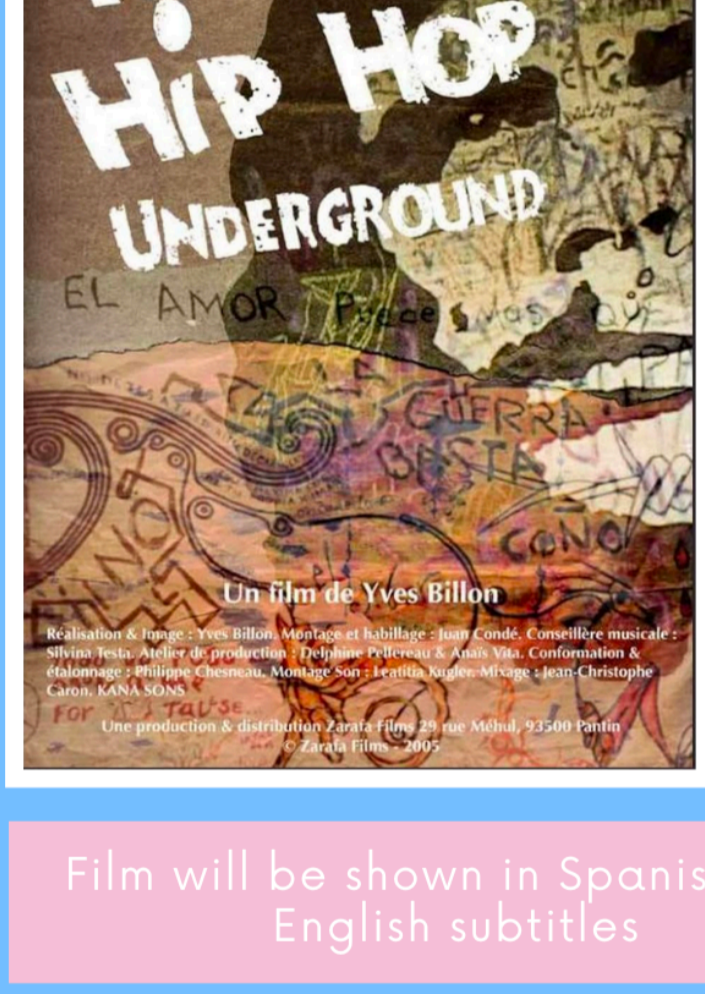

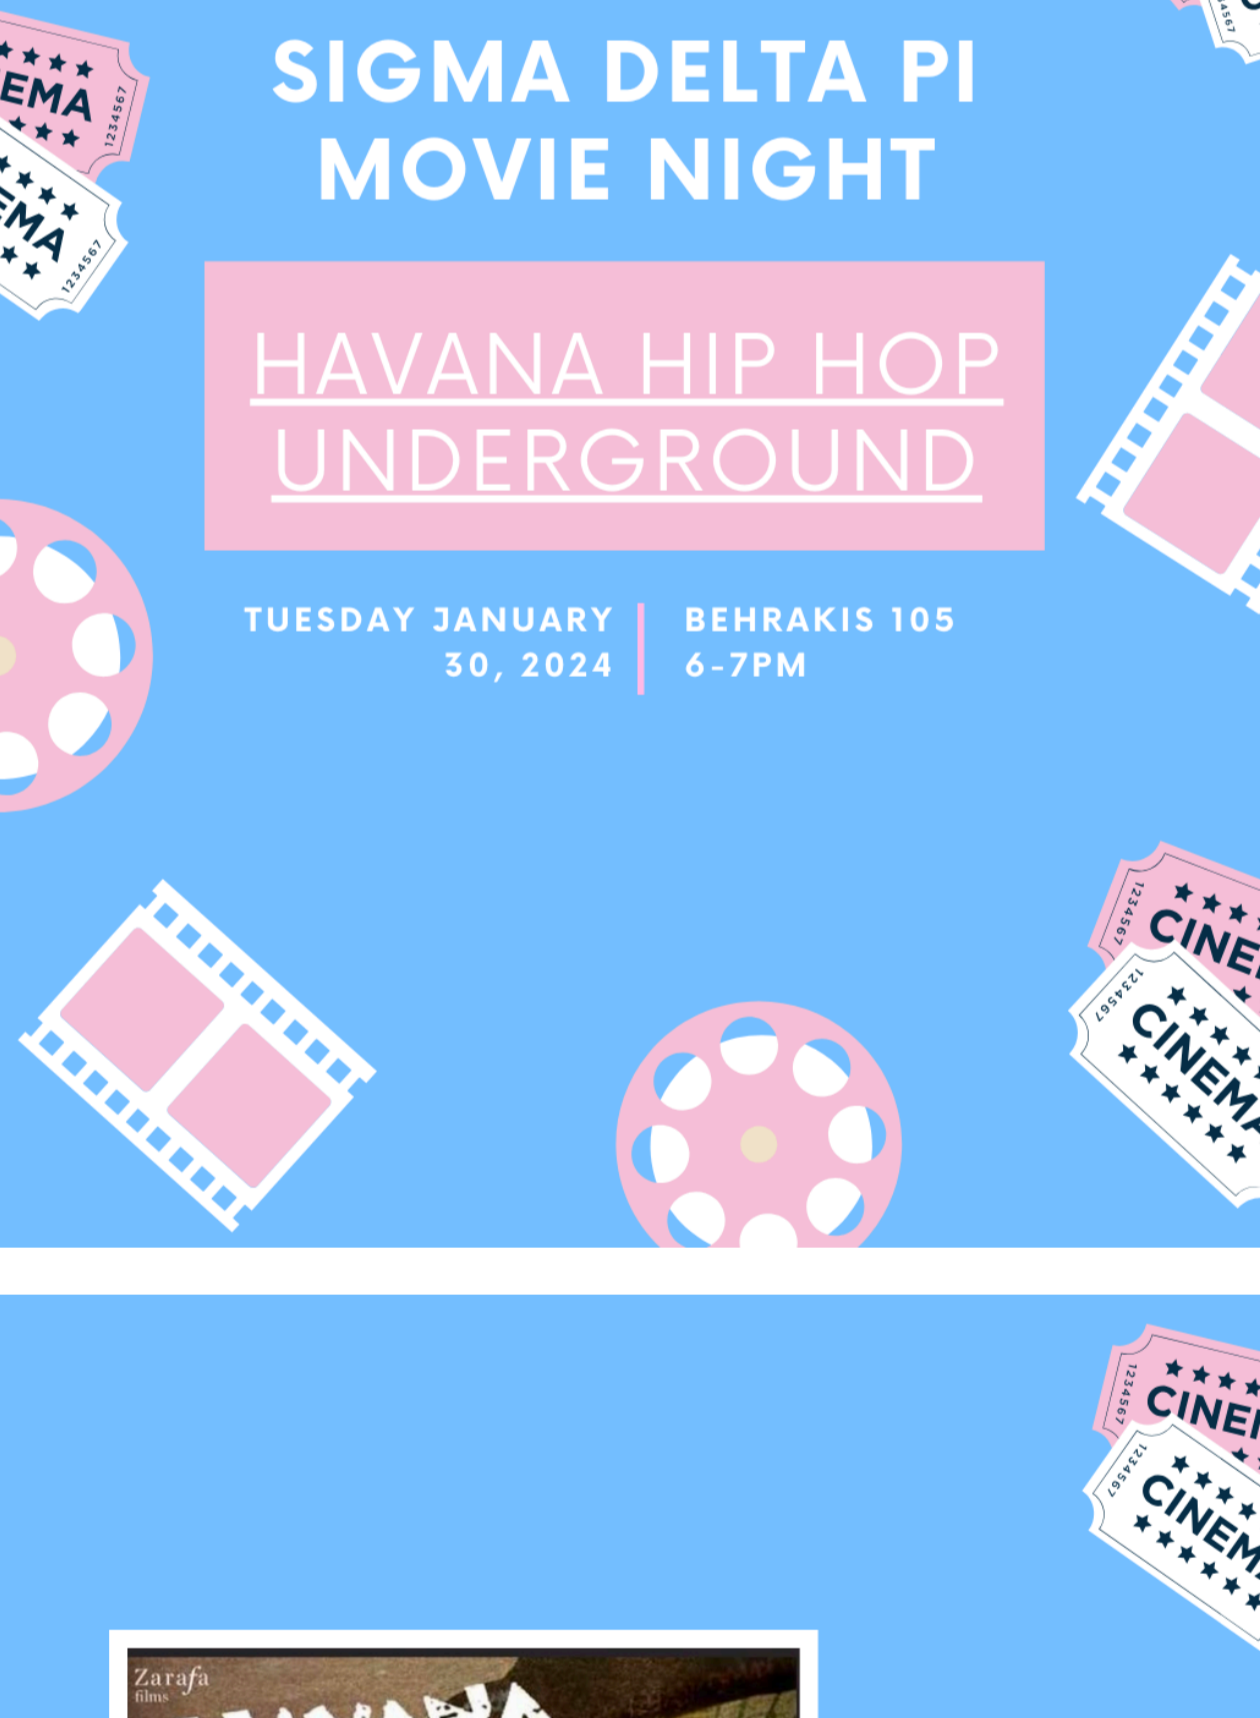

Class of 2024
Major: Biology
Minor: Spanish

I volunteered with Refugee & Immigrant Assistance Center (RIAC) last semester. I spoke with two women, both of whom recently immigrated to the United States from South America, for about 2 hours a week in English and Spanish. I taught them English but utilized Spanish to help them understand concepts/definitions, since their English proficiency was limited (varying from only knowing hello and goodbye up to being able to count to 10). It was actually really helpful that I was taking Spoken Spanish (SPNS 3601) during the time, which is a project-based class that focuses on building confidence to speak with native-speakers through improving pronunciation, listening comprehension, and awareness of the various dialects within the Spanish-speaking world. From this class, I acknowledged how Spanish contains certain phrases and was able to help the women with their reading and pronunciation (explaining how "my" and "fine" use the phone in "ay dios mío," or finding ways to explain the phone in "good" as they don't have that sound in Spanish.)
