

The Pennsylvania State University Center for Acoustics and Vibration
Corporate Sponsorship Agreement

About the Center for Acoustics and Vibration (“CAV”)

The CAV has three missions: (1) to strengthen basic and applied research in vibration and acoustics, (2) to foster graduate education, and (3) to provide a base for technology transfer to US industry and government. Over 50 faculty members and 80 graduate students are active in acoustics and vibration research at Penn State, and work in extensive laboratories with state-of-the-art equipment. The CAV also has several liaisons with international universities active in vibration and acoustics, as well as with US government agencies.

Corporate Sponsorship

Donation from our corporate sponsors help support the CAV, allowing us to host our annual Workshop, maintain our lab spaces and equipment, and hold group seminars each semester with distinguished speakers from outside Penn State.
