

Co-Sponsored by the CV Starr Center for Applied Economics

Friday February 8th (Hemmerdinger Hall & Silverstein Lounge)

8:30 – 9:00 AM | Registration and Breakfast

9:00 – 9:10 AM | Welcome

9:10 – 10:00 AM | 1st Paper

Jorge Gallego, Universidad del Rosario, “Runoff Elections in the Laboratory” co-authored by Laurent Bouton (Georgetown University), Aniol Llorente-Saguer (Queen Mary University of London), and Rebecca Morton (New York University)

Discussant: Jon Woon, University of Pittsburgh

10:00 – 10:50 AM | 2nd Paper

Irina Soboleva, Colombia University, “Closing the Gap? Heterogeneous Effects of Civil Engagement”

Discussant: Arturas Rozenas, NYU

10:50 – 11:20 AM | Break

11:20 – 12:10 PM | 3rd Paper

Tara Grillos, Purdue University, “Does Participation in Group Decision-Making Increase Investment in Public Goods?”

Discussant: Dimitri Landa, NYU

12:10 – 1:00 PM | 4th Paper

Peter Van der Windt, New York University Abu Dhabi, “The Importance of First Adopters for Technology Diffusion: Evidence from a Field Experiment in the Congo” co-authored by Paul Hofman (Wageningen University), Jennifer M. Larson (Vanderbilt University), Martha Ross (Wageningen University), and Maarten Voors (Wageningen University)

Discussant: Tara Slough, Columbia University

1:00 – 2:00 PM | Lunch (Silverstein Lounge)

2:00 – 2:50 PM | 5th Paper

Horacio Larreguy, Harvard University, “Information and Coordination: An Informational Experiment to Improve Electoral Accountability in Mexico” co-authored José Ramón Enríquez (Harvard University), John Marshall (Columbia University), and Alberto Simpser (ITAM)

Discussant: Bruce Bueno de Mesquita, NYU

2:50 – 3:40 PM | 6th Paper

Eugen Dimant, University of Pennsylvania, “It’s Not A Lie If You Believe It: Lying and Belief Distortion Under Norm-Uncertainty” co-authored by Cristina Bicchieri (University of Pennsylvania)

Discussant: Kai Ou, Florida State University

3:40 – 4:00 PM | Break

4:00 – 5:20 PM | Methods Panel (7th and 8th Papers)

Carolyn Roush, Harvard University Kennedy School, “The Micro-Task Market for ‘Lemons’: Collecting Data on Amazon’s Mechanical Turk” co-authored by Douglas J. Ahler (Florida State University) and Gaurav Sood

Jonathan Mummolo, Princeton University, “Demand Effects in Survey Experiments: An Empirical Assessment” co-authored by Erik Peterson (Texas A&M)

Discussants: Jonathan Nagler, NYU and Cyrus Samii, NYU

5:30pm – 6:30pm Poster Session Hemmerdinger Hall

Below is a list of the posters that will be presented at the conference (in alphabetical order by presenter):

Jacob Brown, Harvard University, “Resisting Broken Windows: The Causal Effect of Neighborhood Disorder on Political Behavior” co-authored with Michael Zoorob (Harvard University)

Andrew Miller, MIT, “Citizen-Police Cooperation amid Gang Violence: A Virtual Reality Experiment in Lagos, Nigeria”

João Pereira dos Santos, Nova School of Business and Economics, “Can ATMs Get Out the Vote? Evidence from a Nationwide Field Experiment” co-authored by Jose Tavares (Nova School of Business and Economics, and Centre for Economic Policy Research) and Pedro C. Vicente (Nova School of Business and Economics, NOVAFRICA, and BREAD)

Joan Barcelo, Washington University in St. Louis, “Mobilizing Collective Memory: A Large-Scale Field Experiment on the Effects of Priming Collective Threat on Voting Behavior”

Zain Chaudhry, Heidelberg University, “Mobilizing Women Voters: Experimental Evidence from Pakistan” co-authored by Karrar Hussain (LUMS) and Mohammad Yasir Khan (UC Berkeley)

Charles Crabtree, University of Michigan, “A Nationalist Backlash to International Refugee Law: Evidence from a Survey Experiment in Turkey” co-authored by Kevin L. Cope (University of Virginia School of Law)

Gautam Nair, Yale University, “The Public Provision of Private Goods in Developing Democracies”

Pooja Balasubramanian, University of Goettingen, “Religious discrimination and altruistic preferences in children: A field experiment among children in Mumbai, India” co-authored by Daniel Celis (University of Goettingen) and Marcela Ibanez (University of Goettingen)

Zenobia Chan, Princeton University, “Aid for Status? Cross-National Evidence from China and the United States” co-authored by Kai Quek (University of Hong Kong)

Alessandro Del Ponte, Stony Brook University, "Give some to get some: do voters connect taxes with benefits?" co-authored by Benjamin Carter (Stony Brook University) and Peter DeScioli (Stony Brook University)

Alexander Held, University of British Columbia and Yale University, "Turning 18, But Not Quite: The Impact of Beliefs About Registration Requirements on Turnout"

Taesim Kim, University of Connecticut, "Open up the Black Box: Risk Perception and Public Support for Social Policy"

David Romney, Harvard University, "Frames for Ingroup Policing: Evidence from Group-based Experiments in Israel"

Claire Gothreau, Temple University, "Objectified and Dehumanized: Do Objectifying Images of Women Affect Political Attitudes?" co-authored by Amanda Alvarez (Temple University)

Alessandro Vecchiato, New York University, "How To Make Voters Read More Hard News? Evidence from a Factorial App Experiment in Italy"

Michael Chacon, Arizona State University, "Bias or Sell? News and Partisan Filter Effects on Political Scandal Perception" co-authored by Amanda McCubbin (Arizona State University)

Maggie Lehr, George Mason University, "Trust and Reciprocity in Political Leadership" co-authored by Kevin McCabe (George Mason University)

Taylor Mattia, New York University, "Army of One? Descriptive Representation and Institutional Trust in the U.S. Military"

Umberto Mignozzetti, New York University, "Balancing Public and Elite Preferences: Foreign Policy Evidence from Brazil" co-authored by Peter Aronow (Yale University), Stephen Herzog (Yale University), and Joshua Kalla (Yale University)

Lucia Motolinia Carballo, New York University, "Colorism and the latent race cleavage in Mexico: Evidence from an online experiment" co-authored by Jose Maria Rodriguez-Valadez (Princeton) and Mario Luca (Sciences Po)

Molly Offer-Westort, Yale University, "Negative Income Tax experiments: addressing differential attrition"

Kyle Peyton, Yale University, "Community Policing and Police Legitimacy: A Field Experiment"

Pedro Rodriguez, New York University, "Ostalgic Manifestations of the East-West Divide in Memory Organization" co-authored by Anil Menon (University of Michigan) and David J. Halpern (New York University)

Franziska Roscher, New York University, "Ethnic identity salience and attitudes toward women -- evidence from India"

6:30pm – 9:00pm Hors d'oeuvres and drinks to be served in the Silverstein Lounge

Co-Sponsored by the CV Starr Center for Applied Economics

Saturday February 9th (Jurow Lecture Hall and Silverstein Lounge)

8:30 – 9:10 AM | Breakfast

9:10 – 10:00 AM | 9th Paper

Abraham Aldama, New York University, “Hearts and Minds: A Lab-in-the-Field Experiment in Mexico”

Discussant: Peter DeScioli, Stony Brook University

10:00 – 10:50 AM | 10th Paper

Miriam Golden, UCLA, “Establishing Responsive Linkages between Politicians and Voters in Pakistan” co-authored by Saad Gulzar (Stanford) and Luke Sonnet (UCLA)

Discussant: Pablo Querubin, NYU

10:50 – 11:10 AM | Break

11:10 – 12:00 PM | 11th Paper

Sandro Ambuehl, University of Toronto, “Projective Paternalism” co-authored by B. Douglas Bernheim (Stanford University) and Axel Ockenfels (University of Cologne)

Discussant: Reuben Kline, Stony Brook University

12:00 – 1:00 PM | Lunch (Silverstein Lounge)

1:00 – 2:50 PM | Religion, Institutions, and Politics: Politics and Religion Panel 1 (12th, 13th, and 14th Papers)

Melina Platas, New York University Abu Dhabi, “Social Norms and the Persistence of Educational Inequality: Evidence from the Muslim-Christian Education Gap in Africa”

Jeffrey Ziegler, Washington University in St. Louis, “Responsiveness and Unelected Leaders: Lessons from the Catholic Church”

Jonathan Schulz, Harvard University, “The Catholic Church, Kin Networks and Institutional Development”

Discussants: Sera Linardi, University of Pittsburgh and Hye Young You, NYU

2:50 – 3:10 PM | Break

3:10 – 5:00 PM | Religion, Intergroup Relations, and Politics: Politics and Religion Panel 2 (15th, 16th, and 17th Papers)

Natalie Candelo Londono, CUNY Queens College, "Does Conflict Exposure Increase In-Group Bias? Evidence from Experiments in the Philippines" co-authored by Abigail Peralta (LSU), Sun-Ki Chai (University of Hawaii), Debbie Gundaya (World Bank), Catherine Eckel (Texas A&M), Katerina Sherstyuk (University of Hawaii), and Rick Wilson (Rice University)

Andrew Delton, Stony Brook University, "Moral Obstinacy in Political Negotiations" co-authored by Peter DeScioli (Stony Brook University) and Timothy J. Ryan (University of North Carolina)

Lisa Hoffmann, German Institute of Global and Area Studies & Hamburg University, "Universal love or one true religion? Experimental evidence of how religious ideas influence inter-group discrimination" co-authored by Simone Gobien (GIGA), Matthias Basedau (GIGA), Sebastian Prediger (GIGA)

Discussants: Mike Miller, Barnard College and Pablo Hernandez-Lago, NYU Abu Dhabi

6:00pm Dinner/Reception for organizers, presenters, and discussants

Co-Sponsored by the CV Starr Center for Applied Economics

5:30pm – 6:30pm Poster Session Hemmerdinger Hall

Below is a list of the posters that will be presented at the conference (in alphabetical order by presenter):

Jacob Brown, Harvard University, “Resisting Broken Windows: The Causal Effect of Neighborhood Disorder on Political Behavior” co-authored with Michael Zoorob (Harvard University)

Andrew Miller, MIT, “Citizen-Police Cooperation amid Gang Violence: A Virtual Reality Experiment in Lagos, Nigeria”

João Pereira dos Santos, Nova School of Business and Economics, “Can ATMs Get Out the Vote? Evidence from a Nationwide Field Experiment” co-authored by Jose Tavares (Nova School of Business and Economics, and Centre for Economic Policy Research) and Pedro C. Vicente (Nova School of Business and Economics, NOVAFRICA, and BREAD)

Joan Barcelo, Washington University in St. Louis, “Mobilizing Collective Memory: A Large-Scale Field Experiment on the Effects of Priming Collective Threat on Voting Behavior”

Zain Chaudhry, Heidelberg University, “Mobilizing Women Voters: Experimental Evidence from Pakistan” co-authored by Karrar Hussain (LUMS) and Mohammad Yasir Khan (UC Berkeley)

Charles Crabtree, University of Michigan, “A Nationalist Backlash to International Refugee Law: Evidence from a Survey Experiment in Turkey” co-authored by Kevin L. Cope (University of Virginia School of Law)

Gautam Nair, Yale University, “The Public Provision of Private Goods in Developing Democracies”

Pooja Balasubramanian, University of Goettingen, “Religious discrimination and altruistic preferences in children: A field experiment among children in Mumbai, India” co-authored by Daniel Celis (University of Goettingen) and Marcela Ibanez (University of Goettingen)

Zenobia Chan, Princeton University, "Aid for Status? Cross-National Evidence from China and the United States" co-authored by Kai Quek (University of Hong Kong)

Alessandro Del Ponte, Stony Brook University, "Give some to get some: do voters connect taxes with benefits?" co-authored by Benjamin Carter (Stony Brook University) and Peter DeScioli (Stony Brook University)

Alexander Held, University of British Columbia and Yale University, "Turning 18, But Not Quite: The Impact of Beliefs About Registration Requirements on Turnout"

Taesim Kim, University of Connecticut, "Open up the Black Box: Risk Perception and Public Support for Social Policy"

David Romney, Harvard University, "Frames for Ingroup Policing: Evidence from Group-based Experiments in Israel"

Claire Gothreau, Temple University, "Objectified and Dehumanized: Do Objectifying Images of Women Affect Political Attitudes?" co-authored by Amanda Alvarez (Temple University)

Alessandro Vecchiato, New York University, "How To Make Voters Read More Hard News? Evidence from a Factorial App Experiment in Italy"

Michael Chacon, Arizona State University, "Bias or Sell? News and Partisan Filter Effects on Political Scandal Perception" co-authored by Amanda McCubbin (Arizona State University)

Maggie Lehr, George Mason University, "Trust and Reciprocity in Political Leadership" co-authored by Kevin McCabe (George Mason University)

Taylor Mattia, New York University, "Army of One? Descriptive Representation and Institutional Trust in the U.S. Military"

Umberto Mignozzetti, New York University, "Balancing Public and Elite Preferences: Foreign Policy Evidence from Brazil" co-authored by Peter Aronow (Yale University), Stephen Herzog (Yale University), and Joshua Kalla (Yale University)

Lucia Motolinia Carballo, New York University, "Colorism and the latent race cleavage in Mexico: Evidence from an online experiment" co-authored by Jose Maria Rodriguez-Valadez (Princeton) and Mario Luca (Sciences Po)

Molly Offer-Westort, Yale University, "Negative Income Tax experiments: addressing differential attrition"

Kyle Peyton, Yale University, "Community Policing and Police Legitimacy: A Field Experiment"

Pedro Rodriguez, New York University, "Ostalgie: Manifestations of the East-West Divide in Memory Organization" co-authored by Anil Menon (University of Michigan) and David J. Halpern (New York University)

Franziska Roscher, New York University, "Ethnic identity salience and attitudes toward women -- evidence from India"