

Photograph by Tom Loonan.

"I credit the Albright-Knox's internship program with helping me define my goals, develop my knowledge of current museum practices, and, most importantly, aiding me in finding a job after graduation."

– Catherine Scrivo Baker,
Assistant Registrar; former Registrar's Office Intern

Summer 2018 Session

Undergraduate and graduate students, as well as recent graduates (within one year of graduation), are invited to apply for the Albright-Knox's Internship Program. Our Summer Session takes place over nine weeks from June through early August. Participants are required to intern a minimum of ten hours per week and must complete 120 hours during the session. The deadline for Summer Session applications is March 2, 2018.

The deadline for Summer Session applications is March 2, 2018.

Photograph by Tom Loonan.

"I credit the Albright-Knox's internship program with helping me define my goals, develop my knowledge of current museum practices, and, most importantly, aiding me in finding a job after graduation."

– Catherine Scrivo Baker,
Assistant Registrar; former Registrar's Office Intern

Summer 2018 Session

Undergraduate and graduate students, as well as recent graduates (within one year of graduation), are invited to apply for the Albright-Knox's Internship Program. Our Summer Session takes place over nine weeks from June through early August. Participants are required to intern a minimum of ten hours per week and must complete 120 hours during the session. The deadline for Summer Session applications is March 2, 2018.

The deadline for Summer Session applications is March 2, 2018.